A Brief about Her:

Shivani's father works as a security guard at Dehradun Institute of Technology earning Rs. 3000 a month. His job is not permanent, and there is no backup source of income in case he loses his current job. However, her elder sister has recently managed to secure a job as a lab assistant at the Kasiga School, where she is earning Rs. 2500, which has provided some level of financial comfort to their family. They live in a mud house, and own a cow.

She joined P.Y.D.S. in 2007, and came from a local school, where she had a decent academic record. She has grown significantly over the last few years, and can now talk fluently in English. She has also become confident about herself.
