[REDACTED] hails from a modest family in Ranga Reddy District in Telangana State. His father is a farmer, makes a meager income from his farm which is barely enough to support the family. His mother is a homemaker. It was a moment of shock when the family realized that their child is deaf, this was when he was three years old. They started looking for facilities which could support the needs of their special child and were heartbroken when they realized there were hardly any affordable services available for a child with disability. They felt distressed and helpless. Despite their financial constraints they visited many hospitals and hoped their child will start talking one day. Gradually his parents came to realize that they have to live with their child's condition. The parents wished to provide good education to their only child and started looking around for schools which can train a child with disability. They heard about Ashray Akruti through an acquaintance and approached the school for admission. He was enrolled in the school in June 2016.
