Type of surgery	: Cancer
Date of surgery	: 12/3/11

Brief Description:

Qutubuddin, a 50 years old man came to our hospital with complaints of cyst (nodule formation) & swelling in the right upper lid from last 15 days. On examination he was suspected to have cancerous cyst in right eye upper lid. He became very worried on hearing this and feared that this deadly disease would take his life and eat into his family resources. However he was counseled by our doctors and given the assurance that his treatment would be free of cost.

He underwent right upper lid mass excision + lid reconstruction on 12th March, 2011. Now there is no swelling cyst after the surgery.

His consultation fees, examinations, surgery & investigations were done free of cost. His future treatment will be based on the biopsy report and after he has recovered from this surgery. We hope that he has been cured and fully free of cancerous cells in his body.

If his biopsy results show further need for treatment, we will provide it free of cost and treat him with the same care.

At Dr. Shroff's Charitable Eye Hospital, our mission is "to make a lasting impact on the eradication of blindness and deafness in India by providing quality care to all sections of the society".

Our community outreach initiatives include setting up Vision Centres (primary eye care centre) and Secondary Eye Hospitals in the rural hinterlands of India, thereby taking quality eye care to the very doorsteps of the under served and underprivileged people of India. The patients identified for eye and ear surgeries are brought to the hospital where they undergo physical fitness test, are operated upon and then left back the next day after the first follow up. The treatment of these patients is totally free of charge or highly subsidized (in complicated cases.)
