Arjun stays with his family in shack in Titwala. His father is a drunkard whereas his mother works as a helper in a couple of houses nearby. His father being a daily wage earner, the mother is ideally the earning member of the family. So when I visited their house, his mother was cooking food and the father was just whiling away his time. They initially thought I was a doctor from the hospital, however when I explained to them as to what we do, they were very cordial in sharing their experiences with Shree Mahaganpati Hospital. They confirmed that the hospital did not charge them anything for Arjun's treatment and that the hospital is very cordial every time they have to visit the hospital, doctors being really supportive as well.	Pauras
